

Don't miss out on October's seminars – places going fast

The role of masterplanning

22 October 2008, 10am to 4pm, Birmingham

Migration and Regeneration: impacts, issues and implications

30 October 2008, 10am to 4pm, Birmingham

London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games - What the public sector needs to know.

A morning seminar providing an overview of the West Midlands' plans for the London 2012 Games and, in particular, the elements the public sector needs to know. Speakers include:

- Jim Johnson: London 2012 Business Olympic Planner, AWM
- Phil Gray: Managing Director, Commercial Doctor

Further details of this event can be found on our website, or please contact Conrad Parke on 0121 202 3260.

Three Brownfield land seminars this November

The next three seminars hosted by the Centre of Excellence in Land Reclamation will be:

6 November 2008

Open space uses of brownfield land

13 November 2008

The land remediation process/remediation approaches

21 November 2008

How the best work with the Environment Agency

Further details on all CELR seminars are available on our website, or please contact Veronica Barbaro on 0121 202 3260.

Considering hosting a placement?

The regeneration placement service team is exhibiting at careers fairs across the region and signing on highly skilled, enthusiastic graduates and undergraduates.

For more information on hosting a placement please contact the team (Elaine, Conrad, Rani or Veronica) on 0121 202 3260.

West Midlands Regeneration Convention

Following last year's success, the West Midlands Regeneration Convention 2008 takes place on Monday 8 December. Keynote speakers will be announced next week.

For more visit our website or contact the RegenWM team on 0121 202 3260.

National award success for West Midlands projects

Three West Midlands projects celebrated success at the Regeneration and Renewal Awards 2008. Urban Splash's Fort Dunlop won the Best-Designed Regeneration Development. Regenerating North Solihull was named Regeneration Partnership of the Year, and Castle Vale Community Housing Association won the Housing Deliverer of the Year award.

Save the date for the DEWM design fair

For all those design enthusiasts: put 18 February in your diaries for the DEWM design fair. The fair will include design exhibition stands for regional and national organisations, plus networking opportunities and speaker presentations.